Profile

Alim Tunkara has a background in neuroscience and neuropsychiatry. He provides specialised support to clients with complex traumatic brain injuries and operates and consults as an Independent Case Management Assistant.

Alim Tunkara has worked with clients with different clinical presentations of acquired brain injuries since 2020. He has in-depth knowledge and experience working and implementing neurorehabilitation support plans tailored to and personalised for clients, including consulting in care planning with multidisciplinary teams and executing the implementation of rehabilitation and therapy plans.

Alim's experience centres on supporting paediatric clients and young adults through critical transitional periods. His speciality focuses on clients with clinical presentations under the overall behavioural bracket of neuropsychiatry, neurobehaviors, clinical psychology, and neurocognitive impairments. Alim has an excellent understanding of the interplay of cross-disciplines and challenges faced with comorbid pathologies, inclusive but not limited to autism spectrum disorders, ADHD, personality disorders, emotional dysregulation, and mood disorders and dysexecutive functioning.

Testimonial

"I have worked with Alim Tunkara as a Case Manager for a client, whom Alim supported as a Neurorehabilitation Therapy Assistant. Alim's input spanned the RC's age range between 15 and 18+. Key challenges resulting from a severe ABI were high levels of executive functioning difficulties, oppositional defiance, anger and behaviour dysregulation, poor planning, and general engagement. Alim was able to use the knowledge and skills he had obtained during his MA in neuropsychiatry to sensitively gain the client's trust and support when previous support worker trials had failed. Alim demonstrated high levels of commitment to the client, participating in two supported independent living trials, one for 2 months and the follow-on one for 8 months. He continuously showed a high level of professionalism and ability to maintain meaningful support, managing many challenging situations with clear boundaries and assuring authority while modelling positive behaviours, which the client responded well to. I commend Alim for his intuitive professionalism." – Case Manager

"I've got nothing other than great things to say about Alim. He has been an absolute blessing to my son T's life. He came into T's life a couple of months ago, and he's had such a good & positive impact on T. He shows him how a young man should behave with respect and integrity; T looks up to Alim and takes on board what he says. I am very grateful to have Alim help my son with his difficulties growing up, with regulating his emotions & helping him learn his independent skills." - Client's Mother
