Profile

Pam is a highly motivated, conscientious, and empathetic case manager, with over 20 years' experience working with children and adults with a diverse range of complex physical and neurological needs and the associated psychological trauma. Committed to empowering her clients to achieve their goals to maximise and maintain their independence Pam is skilled at managing conditions including brain injury, neurological disorders, genetic abnormalities, complex orthopaedic injuries, internal injuries, mental health difficulties, amputation, and visual impairments.

Pam is collaborative, supportive, and innovative in her approach, working as a strong advocate for clients and their families / care teams to ensure the best possible outcomes. She is proactive, practical, and a skilled and effective communicator. Her considerable experience both as a case manager and expert witness competently and effectively informs the litigation process, supporting clients and their families as they move through the legal challenges and into settlement.

Pam is skilled in setting up and managing care teams for her clients. Pam has a wealth of clinical and case management experience enabling her to work with professionalism and creativity to help clients achieve good outcomes towards a life they value.

Testimonial

"Pam is an exceptional professional who combines both a wealth of knowledge with empathy. She is a brilliant support for people who have had a brain injury and their families. I would recommend Pam wholeheartedly." - Ann Houghton, Partner, Anthony Collins Solicitors
